DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. The previous restriction requirement inadvertently failed to address the issue of separate restriction for the distinct sequences recited in SEQ ID NOS: 1-28. Therefore, while appreciative of Applicants' kind election July 6, 2004, this new restriction is necessitated to address the sequences recited in SEQ ID NOS: 1-28.

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Groups I, claim(s) 19-30, drawn to a nucleic acid, agent and method of using said nucleic acid.

Group II, claim(s) 32, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition.

Group III, claim(s) 33-35, drawn to method of selecting RNA.

Sequence Election Requirement Applicable to All Groups

3. In addition, each Group detailed above reads on patentably distinct sequences (SEQ ID NOS:). Each sequence is patentably distinct because the sequences are structurally distinct, and a further restriction is applied to each Group. Applicant must further elect a single sequence (SEQ ID NO:) from the group consisting of SEQ ID NOS: 1-28. Applicant must specifically identify each of the corresponding SEQ ID NO: X or SEQ ID NO: Y for the sequence elected along with the corresponding elected claims.

Applicant is advised that examination will be restricted to only the elected SEQ ID NO: and should not to be construed as a species election. Non-elected sequences in multiple sequence claims will be withdrawn from prosecution.

4. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The claims of Group I are sufficiently broad to encompass to encompass a nucleic acid taught in the prior art. Accordingly, the invention does not represent a contribution over the prior art because the prior art teaches a nucleic acid capable of being specifically bound to target protein of Ras (US 5,910,407, June 1999, col. 5, lines 2-8) as required by the invention of Group I. The claims lack a special technical feature that is the same or that corresponds to a special feature of the other claimed invention. Thus, there is not a special technical feature linking the recited groups, as would be necessary to fulfill the requirements for unity of invention.

Further Groups I and II are drawn to distinct products lacking the same or corresponding technical feature special technical features. The nucleic acid of group I is composed of nucleotides and can function in methods of nucleic acid hybridization and/or amplification whereas the pharmaceutical composition of Group II functions as an agonist or antagonist and is administered to an organism as a treatment agent. Accordingly, the products mention above differ structurally and functionally from each other.

Further Group III drawn to a method of selecting RNA differs from the nucleic acid and method of using said nucleic acid of Group I and the pharmaceutical composition of Group II. The method of Group III have different objectives, method steps and results in a different effect than the invention of Group I or the composition of Group II. Therefore, it is again noted that the claims of the present invention are not directed to the same or corresponding special technical features for the reasons discussed above.

5. A telephone call was made to Jennifer Rosenfield for Applicants on September 9, 2004 to request an oral election to the sequence restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made. Ms. Rosenfield request that a written restriction requirement be mailed.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Cynthia B. Wilder, Ph.D. whose telephone number is (571) 272-0791. The examiner works a flexible schedule and can be reached by phone and voice mail. Alternatively, a request for a return telephone call may be emailed to cynthia.wilder@uspto.gov. Since email communications may not be secure, it is suggested that information in such request be limited to name, phone number, and the best time to return the call.
